

Thank you for visiting us at the BAU 2013 and for your interest in Akripol and our product range.

Akripol has introduced new product solutions in all product areas. With these solutions we would like to offer you the maximum possible benefits.

As you have requested on the trade fair, our responsible area assistant will contact you within the next days.

Should you require any further information on our product range for skylights or sound barriers, we will be pleased to assist you either in a personal meeting or by sending you the respective documentation.

Kind regards,

Akripol Team
